Whistle Blowing Policy

APPROVED BY: BOARD OF TRUSTEES

DATE APPROVED: NOVEMBER 2025

DATE REVIEWED:

DATE OF NEXT REVIEW: NOVEMBER 2027

Introduction

Employees are often the first to realise that there may be something seriously wrong with their school. However, they may not express their growing concerns because they feel that speaking up would be disloyal to their colleagues. They may also fear harassment or victimisation. In these circumstances, it may be easier to ignore the concern rather than report what may be just suspicion of malpractice and wrongdoing at work.

The school and governing body are committed to the highest possible standards of openness, probity and accountability. In line with this commitment, we encourage employees and others with genuine concerns about any of the Council's or governing body's work to come forward and voice those concerns. This policy document makes it clear that employees can do so without fear or reprisals. The whistleblowing policy is intended to encourage and enable employees to raise such concerns within their school or where appropriate the LA rather than overlooking the problem or blowing the whistle outside.

This procedure accords with the requirements of the Public Interest Disclosure Act 1998 and is compatible with the conventions contained in the Human Rights Act 1998.

The procedure allows school-based employees to raise concerns about the management of the school with the governing body and to raise concerns about the governance of the school with named LA officers. The procedure also allows school-based employees who have concerns about the LA to raise these concerns with named LA officers.

Aims and scope of this policy

This policy aims to:

- Provide avenues for you to raise genuine concerns and receive feedback on any action taken;
- Allow you to take the matter further if you are dissatisfied with the governing body or LA response;
- Reassure you that steps will be taken to protect you from reprisals or victimisation for whistleblowing in good faith.

There are existing procedures in place to enable you to lodge a grievance relating to your own employment. This whistleblowing policy is intended to cover genuine concerns that fall outside the scope of other procedures. That concern may be about something that:

- Is unlawful;
- Is against the Governing Body's Standing Orders or policies;
- Is against the Council's Standing Order or policies;
- Falls below established standards of practice;
- Amounts to improper conduct;

- Is a Health and Safety risk, including risks to the public as well as pupils or other colleagues;
- Is damaging the environment;
- Contradicts the Council's or Governing Body's Codes of Conduct.
- Further examples are provided at Appendix 1.

The procedure will be communicated to all school employees as well as agency workers and supply teachers working in schools on a temporary basis.

Safeguards

Harassment or Victimisation

The governing body recognise that the decision to report a concern can be a difficult one to make, not least because of the fear of reprisal. The governing body will not tolerate harassment or victimisation and will take action to protect you when you raise a concern in good faith. However, should you feel that you have suffered harassment, either directly or indirectly as a result of raising a concern, you should refer to the School's Harassment and Bullying Policy and Code of Practice.

This does not mean that if you are already the subject of disciplinary or redundancy procedures, that those procedures will be halted as a result of your whistleblowing.

Confidentiality

The governing body will do its best to protect your identity when you raise a concern. However, it must be appreciated that, in the interests of natural justice, any investigation process may reveal the source of the information and a statement by you may be required as part of the evidence.

Anonymous Allegations

You are strongly encouraged to put your name to any allegation. Concerns expressed anonymously are much less powerful. Anonymous allegations will be considered and any action taken at the discretion of the governing body.

In exercising this discretion, the following factors will be taken into account when considering how to deal with any allegations:

- The seriousness of the issues raised;
- The credibility of the allegation; and
- The likelihood of confirming the allegation from attributable sources.

Malicious or Vexatious Allegations

If you make an allegation in good faith, but it is not confirmed by the investigation, no action will be taken against you. If, however, you make a malicious or vexatious allegation, disciplinary action may be taken against you in accordance with the School's Disciplinary Procedure.

How to raise a concern

As a first step, you should normally raise concerns with your immediate line manager or Head of School. This depends, however, on the seriousness and sensitivity of the issues involved and who you think may be involved in the malpractice. For example, if you believe that your line manager is involved, you should approach your Head of School. If you feel the Head of School may be involved, The Executive Headteacher should be approached. If you feel the Executive Headteacher may be involved, your Chair of Governors should be approached.

If the concern is about the governing body or the LA, the matter should be raised with a named LA officer (Appendix 2).

Advice and guidance on how matters of concern may be pursued can be obtained from:

- Your line manager;
- Headteacher;
- Chair of Governors;
- Education Human Resources;
- Internal Audit;
- The Monitoring Officer (see 4.7 below).

Concerns are better raised in writing. You are advised to set out background and history of your concerns, giving names, dates and places, where possible, and the reason why you are particularly concerned about the situation. If you do not feel able to put your concern in writing, you can telephone or arrange to meet an appropriate officer who will agree a written statement with you. If you are a member of a trade union you may find it helpful to take advice from them about putting your concerns in writing.

You may ask your trade union representative to raise the matter on your behalf.

The earlier you express your concern, the easier it is for the governing body to take action.

For concerns other than fraud, theft or corruption, you may choose to telephone the relevant LA officer in Appendix 2. You can also report your concern to the Monitoring Officer. The Monitoring Officer is the Assistant Director for Legal and Democratic Services.

Any LA officer or Chair of Governors receiving any concern will also report it to the Monitoring Officer. This is because the Monitoring Officer has a statutory duty to consider any issue that has, or may, result in the Council being in contravention of the law or a code of practice.

Although you are not expected to prove the truth of an allegation, you will need to demonstrate to the person contacted that there are sufficient grounds for initial enquiries to be made.

How the governing body or LA will respond

The action taken by the governing body will depend on the nature of the concern. The matters raised may:

- Be investigated internally;
- Be referred to the Police;
- Be referred to an external Auditor;
- Form the subject of an independent enquiry.

In order to protect individuals, the governing body, initial enquiries will be made to decide whether an investigation is appropriate and, if so, what form it should take. Concerns or allegations that fall within the scope of specific procedures (e.g. child protection or discrimination issues) will normally be referred for consideration under those procedures.

Some concerns may be resolved by agreed action without the need for an investigation.

Within ten working days of a concern being received, the governing body will write to you:

- Acknowledging that the concern has been received;
- Indicating how it proposes to deal with the matters;
- Giving an estimate of how long it will take to deal with the matter;
- Telling you whether any initial enquiries have been made; and
- Telling you whether further investigations will take place, and if not, why not.

The amount of contact between the governors and/or LA officers considering the issues and you will depend on the nature of the matters raised, the potential difficulties involved and the clarity of the information provided. If necessary further information will be sought from you.

When any meeting is arranged to discuss your concerns, you have the right, if you so wish, to be accompanied by a trade union representative or a work colleague who is not involved in the area of work to which the concern relates and who also who could not be called as witness.

The governing body will take steps to minimise any difficulties, which you may experience as a result of raising a concern. For instance, if you are required to give evidence in criminal or disciplinary proceedings, the governing body will advise you about the procedure.

The governing body accepts that you need to be assured that the matter has been properly addressed. Thus, subject to legal constraints, you will receive information about the outcome of any investigations.

Any person who is subject of an allegation should, at the appropriate times be given details of the allegation in order to respond. They will have the right to trade union representation.

How the matter can be take further

This policy is intended to provide you with an avenue to raise concerns with your governing body. The governing body hopes you will be satisfied. If you are not and you feel it is right to take the matter outside the Council, the following are possible contact points:

- Your local Council member (if you live in the area of the Council);
- Ombudsman;
- External Auditor;
- Relevant professional bodies or regulatory organisations;
- Your solicitor;
- The Police;
- Other bodies prescribed under the Public Interest Disclosure Act 1998
e.g.:
 - The Audit Commission for England and Wales
 - Data Protection Registrar
 - Serious Fraud Office
 - Environment Agency
 - Health and Safety Executive

If you do take the matter outside your governing body, LA or Council you need to ensure that you do not disclose confidential or privileged information. Where confidential or privileged information is inappropriately disclosed you may be subject to disciplinary action. Employees considering such action should make themselves aware of Part IVA of the Employment Rights Act 1996 as inserted by the Public Interest Disclosure Act 1998.

The Responsible Officer

Within the council the Monitoring Officer, Director of Policy, Performance & Governance, has overall responsibility for the maintenance and operation of this policy. The Monitoring Officer maintains a record of genuine concerns raised and the outcomes are reported as necessary to the Council, in a form that endeavours to maintain your confidentiality as far as possible (please see paragraph 3.2).

Within your school the Chair of Governors will carry out the functions carried out by the Monitoring Officer. The Chair will report as necessary to the Governing Body rather than the council, in a form that endeavours to maintain your confidentiality as far as possible.

Review and Monitoring

This policy will be reviewed and monitored on an annual basis. The Governing Bodies should have particular regard to the identification of the number of racist incidents and racial harassment.
